An Abridged Retrospective
the document
welters experience

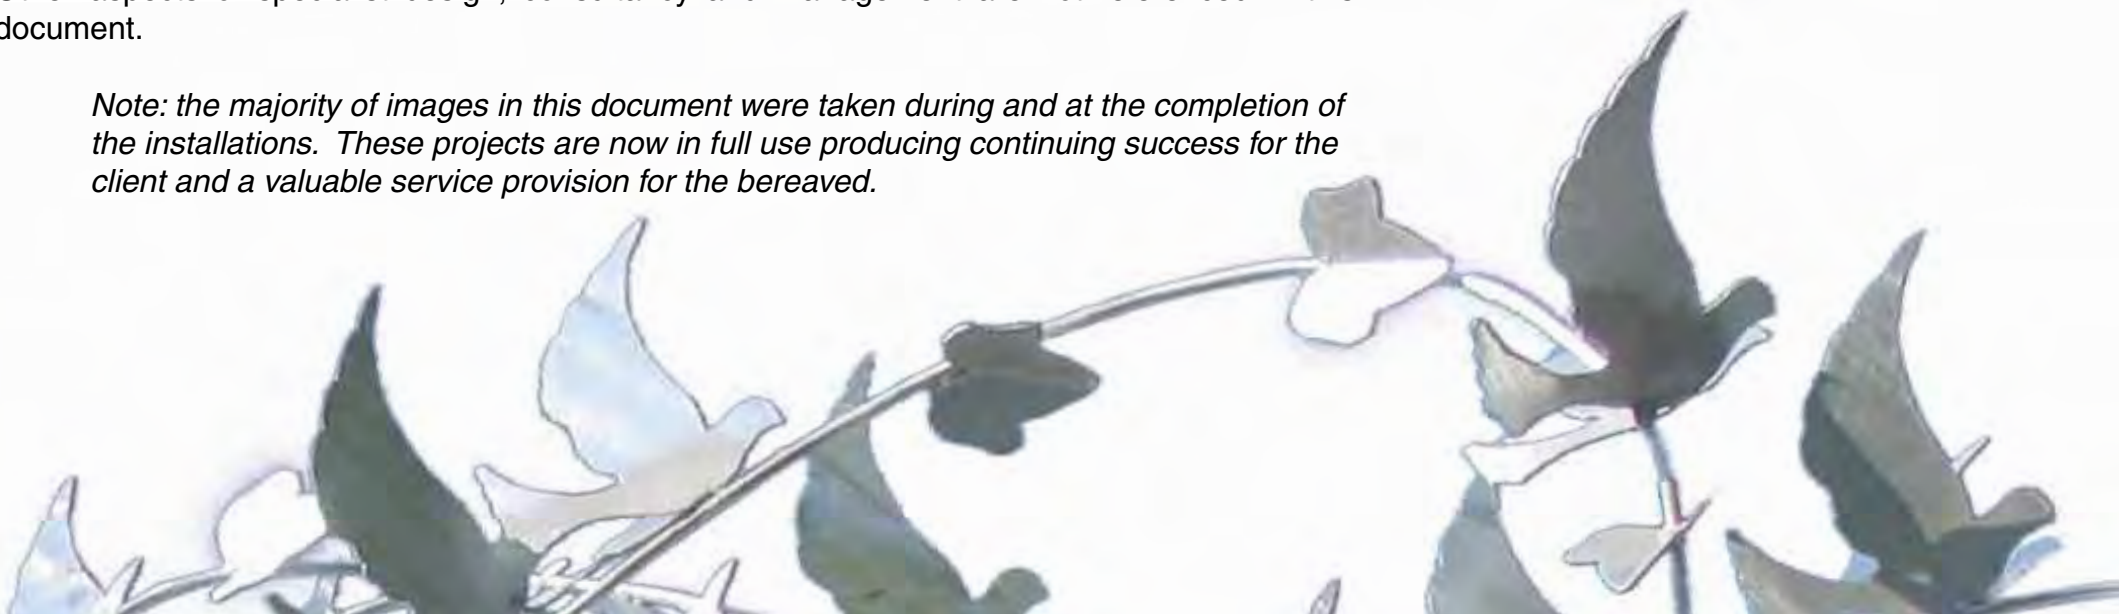

welters[®]
ORGANISATION
WORLDWIDE
Design and Innovation

The brief presentation indicating certain historic and recent projects undertaken by the welters organisation reaffirms the company's historic dedication to good design and an absolute speciality through professionalism in respect of multi material manufacture which has been well respected and revered in Britain for many generations.

The Principals' continued links in dedication and service through the City Guilds and London Liveries which follow the organisations' embodiment within the City and Guilds education format and present day design training support to industry are clear to see in all the work that the company represents.

Other aspects of specialist design, consultancy and management are not referenced in this document.

Note: the majority of images in this document were taken during and at the completion of the installations. These projects are now in full use producing continuing success for the client and a valuable service provision for the bereaved.
